It's just a quick hike from the home's back-yard over the extinct crater's wall to Hanauma Bay Nature Preserve, where you can safely swim on the gorgeous sandy beach and snorkel with the protected and very tame tropical fish and plentiful green turtles among the live-coral heads just a few feet further away, with scuba diving with professional instructors and a bay-watch lifeguard standing by for your safety! Hanauma Bay is naturally protected from storms and high wind or waves so you can swim comfortably all year long! Enjoy ☺
